TRANSPARENT PHONE PROTECTORS

HEALTHCARE ENVIRONMENTS

Healthcare institutions around the world rely on their desk phones. However, up until now, there were no options for healthcare professionals to protect their phones without interfering with the functions of the phone.

Multiple studies confirm that pathogens can survive for prolonged periods on desk phones. Without the ability to wash the device, those pathogens can easily spread. Not only do people share the device, but the warm surfaces provide an ideal breeding ground for bacteria and viruses to spread. The Health grade transparent protective covers can be washed regularly, to eliminate surface pathogens and protect the users.
